It is foolish, some say, to be patriotic, that one day not too distant we'll all live in one world community anyway. That is quite likely. But what kind of world and what kind of substance shall it be? Of a Washington, a Churchill, a Lincoln, a Pitt, a Rousseau, a Jefferson, a Shakespeare, an Einstein? . . . the builders? Or of a Stalin, Trotsky, Mao, Marx, Lenin . . . the professional revolutionaries? The alternatives to a civil world are obvious, in fact, are about to dismember a potentially great nation. Russia, even, is moderating more toward what is considered Western, but what really only is free. Washington, by character and courage and yes, through revolution, turned such conviction into a country. And it is reason enough to cite Washington's birthday, and worry less about fools who value rebellion for itself and honor "fools" who think this country builds people and empire.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

With F.M.L.

If we were to introduce legislation in the House or Senate in Austin or Washington or even in the United Nations Assembly, it would require:

That each adult, competent enough, seeking to influence other people in any way, serve at least one year and perhaps two on an active public board, council, commission or the like and for at least one year and perhaps two to make a payroll and supervise other people, perhaps only one or two.

A lot of legislation and clamoring would stop. And when people acted, they would know somewhat whereof they speak or vote and they would close with reason the unreasonable mouth of the uninformed.

Rock and Roll is wearing out in China, according to Christian Science Monitor.

Chinese students leaving Russia by train for China were subjected, complains Chinese Reds, to two hours of jazz over a PA system at one stop danced to by rock and rollers among Soviet youth.

107 can't blame the Chinese for not liking rock 'n roll music or dancing. With rare exception, they are neither. But if it bugs the relations of Soviet and Chinese, now only tentatively sharing the Red monolith over all of Asia, we say let them hear some more of that jazz.

FILCHED

While a minister was conducting religious services in a mental hospital, an inmate suddenly broke into the discourse:

"I say," he asked wildly, "have we got to listen to this?"

Confused and uncertain as to his future course, the minister turned to an attendant asking if he should proceed.

"Pay no heed to it," counseled the keeper. "That man has only one lucid moment every seven years."

McCullin Notes Worth Of M-R Oil

By Lloyd Albertson

The Cameron Lions Club Monday at the Texan Cafe, heard some little known history of the Minerva-Rockdale shallow field from A. W. McCullin.

Oilman McCullin also told little known facts and figures about how the field has helped the area economy.

McCullin, a long time operator and buyer of crude in the field, shot these figures at his listeners:

Although the Minerva-Rockdale field is more than 40 years old, it has 575 producing wells. From its discovery in February 17, 1921 until January 1, 1966, it produced 4,966,780 barrels of crude. Total production in 1965 was 74,682 barrels.

Production through November, 1966, -- 11 months, was 65,304 barrels.

McCullin did not make an estimate of the dollar value of the output. However, Milam County crude has generally sold for $2.00 to $3.00 a barrel in recent years.

He traced the early day history of oil exploration in the county from the first real drilling effort in 1914 on the Doss acreage west of Rockdale to the first discovery in the Tracy field where 85 wells drilled from 265 to over 500 feet deep all produced some oil.

"It was an oilman's dream," he commented.

The discovery of the first well in the Minerva field by Sam Hohenstein in February, 1921, set off the first oil boom here, McCullin said. "And Cameron citizens, more used to seeing Model T Fords on their streets, suddenly found them swarming with Cadillacs, Packards and Pierce-Arrows as oil operators came in from all over the country."

The depression hurt the Minerva-Rockdale field, as it did everything else, but it made a comeback, and during the mid-1950's, extended east into a new area. He got a laugh from his listeners when he referred to it by its old original name -- Possum Trot -- instead of Griffin Chapel as it is known today.

McCullin concluded by saying that while the Minerva-Rockdale field was old, it apparently can have a bright future. He said that other old fields such as Thrall and Corsicana are producing better than ever due to improved drilling and recovery methods. He saw no reason why Minerva - Rockdale should not do the same.

Letters View Fire Problem . . .

County Proposes Meeting

An exchange of letters over the Cameron Fire Dept's cost of fighting rural fires is culminating in a meeting between County and City officials.

In a letter to the City dated February 15, Judge O. B. Harden said all four county commissioners Monday had further discussed the problem of city fire department costs in fighting country grass fires.

The Commissioners, the County's letter said, had not been "able to agree to the Resolution" in a letter from Mayor Bassel Wilson in the City's behalf.

The City's latest letter, dated February 10, noted the Council had resolved in a Council meeting of February 7 that:

CITY RESOLUTION

"Effective March 1, 1967, Milam County will be billed for fire fighting services with equipment owned by the City of Cameron when operated outside said City Limits, at the rate of $1.00 per mile and $20.00 per hour. This charge is to be billed monthly."

A standing agreement of the County with municipal fire departments does not include cost of fighting grass fires, which City records show required about 490 miles travel and 39 hours time during January. The fire departments are reimbursed when real property fires are fought in the county, $25 each.

The County Commissioners Monday recommended that Judge Harden and Commissioner Lavert McKinney meet with the Council or representatives, Judge Harden suggested such a meeting could be either 10 a.m. Friday, February 17, or 2 p.m. Tuesday, February 21.

FIRE DISTRICT

The County's latest letter went on to explain that Article 2351a-6 of Texas Civil Statutes allows citizens of a community to vote in or out of a Fire Prevention District.

Judge Harden says that Commissioners feel that each precinct would be entitled to the same equipment in any arrangement, not just with one town.

Judge Harden said the County had not ignored the Cameron City

Council's request for a joint meeting, but had discussed it prior to first City Council discussion of the problem January 17. Mayor Wilson's letter in behalf of the City, dated February 10, says: "We regret that you have ignored the Cameron City Council's request for a joint meeting with the Commissioners' Court."

In a letter of February 9 to the City, Judge Harden points out: "We would take issue with this (no legal basis for fighting out-of-town fires), on the basis of the voluntary agreement which has existed since 1956."

The February 9 letter also suggests the possibility of a county election for or against issuing time warrants for county fire fighting equipment. Coryell County had voted a special fund of $35,000 for purchase of fire fighting equipment for use around that county.

Judge Harden noted that C. L. Angell, president of the Milam Farm Bureau, attended the Monday morning meeting of Commissioners' Court, citing interest of farmers in the problem.

Chamber Names Henderson Prexy For 1967 - 1968

Six others will be appointed for one-year terms. Elected terms, according to the Chamber constitution, are for three years.

Mrs. Barbara Smitherman, secretary of Cameron Chamber, said that Robert B. Seal, vice-president and industrial consultant with Republic National Bank, of Dallas, would be the main speaker at the annual Chamber banquet March 14.

Right Hotel Closing Ends 50 Yr. History For City Hostelry

The Right Hotel, which once housed a restaurant (now occupied by McDonald Plumbline) and a ground floor sample room for traveling salesmen, will close as a commercial hotel March 1.

Mrs. Eunice Anderson Brown, who has operated the hotel since 1936, said permanent residents were moving to new locations this week and the furnishings would be gone by March 1 at the latest. One resident, forced to move by the closing, has been a resident of the hotel for 26 years.

The 28 room hotel has been in operation about 50 years. It was operated by W. Gillis. It was first called the "Commercial Hotel" and later the "New Commercial." The name was changed to Right Hotel when the Andersons took over management in 1936.

$4 Million Prospect . . .

Grazing Co-OP Possible

A possible $4 million grazing-recreation facility is in prospect for Milam County through a Farmers Home Administration loan program, following a meeting of young farmers in Cameron.

First step in the program would be organization of a grazing association whose members would apply for a federal loan to purchase land and develop it for maximum grazing production. Members' cattle would be grazed for a set annual charge and bulls would probably be owned by the association.

Henry Ivey, Milam County FHA supervisor, said the federal program was designed to help young farmers and would also be a demonstration for good farm management with the latest methods in use. He said provision would also be made for recreational facilities such as lakes and hunting.

The program would probably include a full time manager with a home provided on the property for him. Ivey said that considerable labor would be employed for clearing the land and developing it for pasture.

He said the program had been popular in far western states where there was a surplus of grazing land, but only recently had been considered in Texas. Land for the pasture would probably be former row crop production acreage. He said several tracts of land were already being considered.

A pilot Texas project is nearing opening in Fannin County, East

WIRES CONFIRM APPROVAL FOR CITY PROJECT

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a loan of $753,552 to the Cameron Housing Authority for construction of 59 low-rent homes, 36 designed for the elderly.

This is the substance of telegrams from Senator Ralph Yarborough, D-Texas, Senator John Tower, R-Texas and Congressman W. R. Poage, D-Texas, to The Cameron Herald earlier this week.

Fred J. Starnes, executive director of the Cameron Housing Authority, which already has 50 units in two sites in North and Northwest Cameron, said an "annual contribution contract" with HUD allowed 265 days for site acquisition and construction start.

Starnes said "Site A for 14 regular family units of two and three bedrooms will be constructed at the east side of the present 36-unit housing complex at 20th and North Washington."

36 DUPLEXES

Site B of 36 duplex units for the elderly will be in an estimated 3 1/2-block area north of Newton Hospital. The units will be one-bedroom duplexes with special facilities in kitchen and bathroom, Starnes told The Herald.

Construction will be of one-floor brick veneer exterior, concrete slab with tile floors and finished sheetrock interiors, he noted. August Kunz, the Housing Authority chairman, and Starnes visited the new federal housing units recently opened in Lott.

Starnes assured that any property owners affected by the construction proposals will receive relocation payments.

SOME RELOCATION

"There will be something to assist, not something big, but funds to help relocate any property owners," Starnes said.

The Fort Worth HUD Regional Office has a tremendous load of work, Starnes told The Herald. Application for the Housing Project was made almost two years ago.

Starnes had appeared before the Cameron City Council a few months ago to report progress on the application.

The office for the total 100-unit Housing Authority will be moved to the duplex area north of Newton Hospital, Starnes said. It is presently located at the North Washington location.

The Cameron Housing Authority, headed by Kunz, includes: John B. Henderson, Sr., vice chairman; and members Henry J. Litzman, Joe J. Heitman and B. F. Grimes.

Seats held by J. D. Ruzicka, Frank Tomascik and Henry Vaculin are up for election, according to Buckholts Supt. Leon Brady. Ruzicka has served on the Board for 15 years, Tomascik for 6 years and Vaculin for 4 years.

Brady said Ruzicka and Tomascik had indicated that they would not seek re-election.

Filing deadline for the Trustee election is March 1. Candidates can file at the Superintendent's office in Buckholts School or at the County Superintendent's office in the Milam Courthouse, Cameron.

Other members of the Board are Arnold Glaser, Doyle Arnold, Alvin Fuchs and Calvin Shenkir. Elected trustees serve for three years.

Mrs. Mann Gandy has been appointed election judge.

TP&L To Spend $42 Millions On Expansion During 1967

Texas Power & Light Company will spend $42,000,000 in 1967 for the construction of new facilities. W. W. Lynch, TP&L president, reported.

Two major construction projects are new generating units at the Company's Valley Steam Electric Station in North Texas and at the Tradinghouse Creek Steam Electric Station near Waco.

Construction of Valley No. 2, a 550,000-kilowatt generating unit, began in January, 1965, and will be completed in late 1967. Work on Tradinghouse No. 1 was started in late 1966, and completion of the 565,000-kilowatt unit is set for late 1969.

Also to be constructed in 1967, are several transmission lines and substations which will provide ample electric power for TP&L customers.

New 138 kv transmission lines will be constructed from near Edgewood to Canton and from near Weatherford to Springtown. In addition, work will continue on 345 kv transmission lines from Lake Creek to Jewett, from TP&L's Valley Steam Electric Station to Royce City, and from Royce City to Forney. Construction will also continue on 138 kv transmission lines from Payne to Gainesville and from Northwest Carrollton to Argyle.

Additionally substations will be constructed or improved at Paris, Oglesby, Springtown, Canton, Forney, Nacogdoches, Chico, Martin Springs, Gainesville, Jewett, Navarro Mills, Lake Creek, Royce City, McKinney, Woodway, and Payne.

Artificial Light Cultures Plants In Houses With Small Windowspace

COLLEGE STATION — If window space is limited in your house for growing indoor plants, you can still grow attractive plants with the aid of artificial lights, says Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University.

Florescent lamps provide an excellent source of light because they give off very little heat and can be placed near the plant to provide high light intensities. The standard cool light lamp is the most popular for growing plants, although other colors can be used. For best results you will need a fixture with at least two forty-watt tubes. This fixture should be suspended over a bench or table not more than one foot above the trays or flats containing the plants. This will provide sufficient light to produce good plants of top quality if they are lighted 14 to 16 hours per day. Two lamp fixtures, mounted side by side, will adequately light an area four feet by four feet.

If the growing area temperature remains between 60 and 75 degrees, no additional heat is needed. If the room is allowed to become cooler, it is necessary to provide supplemental heat. Any supplemental heat should be controlled with a thermostat to prevent over-heating. Many garden shops and hobby centers have units equipped with lights and trays for growing plants from seeds or cuttings. Some of these are elaborate, containing doors for ease in controlling temperatures and humidity. The more interested you become, the more elaborate you will want your equipment. For an interesting hobby try indoor gardening under artificial lights.

Marlin Golf Tourney Benefits Heart Fund

Growth May Be Average

(Another estimate of the outlook for 1967 economics. Ed. The national economy is expected to remain healthy during 1967 but growth potential may be closer to the long-term average, says John McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University.

great deal upon the turn of events in Vietnam and their impact on other government programs and on business investments.

If defense spending is accelerated, further restrictive fiscal action may be necessary to combat inflationary measures, he says. If developments result in a reduction in defense spending, it is expected that certain government programs will be increased to ease the resulting economic adjustments, he adds.

The economist sees no let-up in spending by state and local governments. The increase in 1967 is expected to equal or even exceed the growth rate of the past five years.

Residential construction and capital investments have been slowed by the tight monetary situation of 1966 which resulted as demand for credit rose in response to a sharp increase in demand for goods and services. Future developments in residential construction will depend in part, on the success of government action to provide more funds for mortgage markets, points out McHaney. Mortgage money should become somewhat easier to obtain later in 1967, if as expected, consumer and business demand for credit should ease. An upturn in the housing market is expected late in 1967, the economist says.

McHaney sees a slight lessening of consumer demand for durable goods but a continuing increasing demand for non-durable goods and services. Several factors are cited which may prevent auto sales from matching the total for 1966. These include a slowing down in the rate of increase of consumer income; higher cost of cars, high interest rates, draft calls, and relatively large proportion of young cars in the auto population.

Total purchases of furniture and household equipment are not expected to equal the increase of 1966 over 1965 in view of higher price tags and housing market prospects. Expenditures for non-durables, such as food, clothing, drugs, gas and oil, are expected to continue upward during 1967. Consumers' after-tax incomes, assuming no change in present tax rates, are expected to register another gain in 1967, but it will not be as large as the past year, says the economist.

Business activity is expected to continue upward during 1967. The momentum of the current boom is expected to carry through the first half of the year but the activity gain in the last half will likely be at a slower rate, says McHaney.

The economist foresees many uncertainties in the 1967 picture that complicate assessing the overall economic outlook.

OUTDOOR TIPS

Many of the larger ponds, those 10 acres or so in size, are fished regularly either on a per day basis or by members of private fishing clubs.

Most of the smaller ponds and the rice canals can be fished simply by getting permission of the landowners.

What do these ponds and canals yield? Fine bluegill, bream and perch action plus some astonishingly large black bass, blackies running as large as six pounds.

This is one kind of fishing that requires no special equipment. Standard baitcasting, spincasting or spinning gear will do the trick. It's also the kind of water that can be worked with fly tackle.

Except in the case of the larger ponds, all the fishing can be done from the bank.

By Tom Murray

Most of the sports news media is honorable. Then, there are those who have no qualms about distorting facts. Like those who attempt to create an impression that Houston University Football Coaches are out-recruiting the whole Dad-blamed Southwest Conference. Fat chance! . . . Don't count Baylor out of the Southwest Conference basketball championship vendetta. In 6-7 Darrell Hardy, and Gunner Jim Turner, Coach Bill Menefee has as good a duo as has bombed SWC nets the past decade. . . Texas Aggie Football Coach Gene Stallings is so imbued with Bear Bryant, his former coach and boss, he does a rather amateurish mimicking of The Great One's Folksy, Manly drawl.

But, more important to thousands of hopeful Aggies, Stallings' Zering of Bryant's coaching genius is more professional. Check his first two year results at University Station with the 1954-5 production. Stallings' teams have won seven, lost 12 and tied one. Bryant was 8-11-1.

Some Louisiana fellow wrote Sports Illustrated a hot letter about something, in which he called Max McGee, the long-time Green Bay pass-grabber, "A Louisiana product." Truth is, McGee's a Texan, one of a mob of White Oak McGees. He simply played collegiate football at New Orleans' Tulane. But, then those Coonies still claim Marshall, Texas' Beloved Bald-Head, Y.A. Little, the retired NFL Quarterbacking man. Yat, as those in the know call Little, was signed by D.X. Bible at Texas in 1944. He showed up at Texas same day as Highland Park's Bobby Layne, another pretty fair hand. Little surveyed the situation, packed his bags and headed for LSU.

MICKEY'S COMING HOME:

Mickey Herskowitz is returning to the Houston Post from the AFL wars and readers can hardly wait. Look for Marvin Tate, Houston salesman turned Aggie AD aide, to replace Bones Irvin when the Athletic Director retires. . . Baytown's David Conway, SWC record-holding field-goal kicker at Texas, marries Deborah Alexander Saturday night at Lamesa. . . Don Knodel, the Rice basketball coach, first made an impression as an astute handler of young men. Following Rice upsets of Arkansas and SWC Co-leading TCU, he is getting on with convincing people of considerable Knodel Knowledge on game tactics.

When Darrell Royal received a commitment from All-State Amarillo Quarterback Monty Johnson, he nabbed the young man who could replace both Bill Bradley and Conway as UT kicking specialist. He had a 50.2 yard per kick punting average and booted field-goals over 50 yards. . . Willie Zapalac, the Texas recruiter who sold Houston Westbury's Scott Palmer, a Blue-Chip 220-pound tackle, once coached him in a Bryan Little League. . . His Pop is Derrell Palmer.

mer, former TCU All-America tackle, by the way. . . Speaking of TCU imagine what ball-control Fred Taylor can employ with those two big backs, LaMarque's Norman Bulaich and Ross Montgomery. All they need is a better offensive line.

How long do you think it will be before some writer calls Red Rader, the Rookie Astro blaster, Rojo? Adoring Amarillo fans call him The Red Rooster, now. . . An assistant coach -- SWC variety -- thinks negative selling is the wrong approach. "I can assure that advice to dodge a school because it already has home football players will not impress Bridge City's Steve Worster. Losers, not winners, go for that line."

Popular Classics Selected For Local Rubinoff Concert

When Dave Rubinoff appears in popular concert in Cameron at the Yoe High School Auditorium on February 24 he will perform as violin solos the full scores of Chopin's Polonaise, the Warsaw Concerto, and Rhapsody in Blue. The American public has grown to love these numbers arranged for piano and orchestra, but Rubinoff feels they lend themselves to violin equally as well.

A graduate of the Royal Conservatory in Warsaw, Poland, Rubinoff knew as a child the martial feeling inspired by the immortal Polonaise. Even with tyranny and treachery as Chopin knew it, the opus is appropriate as a current theme of the times. The Polonaise was written by Chopin with a burning spirit of national sympathy and has been likened to "Cannons Buried in Flowers".

He was more fortunate in preparing the soul-stirring Warsaw Concerto as the composer, Richard Addinsell, worked with him on the transcribed violin version. Mr. Addinsell felt after hearing Rubinoff play the Concerto that it was a new revelation in depth of feeling as only the violin could express it.

Weekend Specials Can Save Money

COLLEGE STATION
Food shoppers! Do you take advantage of advertised weekend food specials? If you can use them, they will definitely save you money.

For this weekend, look for best beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef, stew meat and round steak, says Mrs. Gwen-dolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Pork values include picnics, end-cut loin roasts, shoulder roasts and steaks, and pork liver. Fryers remain the number one bargain in most retail meat departments and grade A large eggs offer the greatest quality and economy combination.

Fresh fruit and vegetable items available at moderate prices include oranges, red grapefruit, apples, lemons, avocados, sweet potatoes, lettuce, celery, dry yellow onions, tomatoes, cauliflower, and carrots. Cabbage supplies are less than usual at this season and prices are relatively high. Prices on red potatoes are up a bit, but are still a good choice.

Mrs. Grimes Hosts Pleasure Profit Club

The Pleasure and Profit Club met at the home of Mrs. B. F. Grimes Thursday afternoon.

The hostess served refrigerator pie, finger sandwiches, nuts and coffee to 11 members.

Mrs. E. J. Burkes presented the program, a report on "Thunder on the Campus".

Mrs. J. J. Heitman presided at the business meeting and welcomed Mrs. Lane Horstmann as a new member.

Teaching Children To Handle Emergencies

A young child must be taught to think for himself, not just to react by habit if he is able to cope with the unexpected, say family life education specialists at Texas A&M University.

Although demands upon the preschool youngster must be kept within reason, childcare authorities, including the Child Study Association of America, agree that the average 4-year old is capable of comprehending much more than his parents usually believe he can.

In teaching a child to handle emergencies, do not frighten him. Take a calm, matter-of-fact attitude in explaining emergency situations, even if you may be anxious about them yourself. For instance, in explaining these situations, do not offer sordid details or create a horror story.

Every young child should know what to do in these specific situations:

1) If lost in town: he should be able to repeat his name, address and telephone number to an adult. A small child should also carry some form of identification such as a bracelet or tag on his clothing with his name and address on it. Train him not to panic, but to try to seek a policeman or fireman for help.

2) If lost in the country: he should remain in the open where he can be found more easily. If an older child is lost while hiking in the woods, teach him to pick one direction and walk until he comes to a road or path. He should be able to keep track of his direction by knowing that the sun rises in the east and sets in the west.

3) If bitten by an animal: train your child never to pet a strange animal. But, if bitten, and no adult is immediately available for help, teach him to wash the wound thoroughly under running water and to dry it with a clean gauze. He should report the injury to an adult as soon as possible and try to identify the animal.

Six Extended Care Facilities In Area Medicare Approved

Six extended care facilities including one in Cameron have been approved for Medicare coverage in the six counties served by the Temple Social Security Office, Jack Calvert, district manager, said today.

These six extended care facilities already approved are: Santa Fe Hospital, Southern Manor, and Tutor Nursing Home, all of Temple; St. Edward-Rischar Memorial Hospital, Cameron; Killen Nursing Home, Killen; and Lampasas Nursing Home, Lampasas.

Persons 65 or over who have been hospitalized for at least three days since hospital insurance under Medicare began operation on July 1, 1966, may be eligible for payment of their continued treatment in a skilled nursing home or other institution that qualifies as an extended care facility. Medicare can pay all the basic costs of up to 20 days in such a certified and approved facility, and all but $5 a day for an additional 90 days.

4) If fire breaks out at home: a child should know two escape routes from his bedroom. He should also know how to call the fire department and how to report the exact location of the house. The National Fire Protection Association says children as young as four have been successfully taught some simple responses in case a fire breaks out during the night. These include not to open bedroom doors, but to stay near an open window awaiting rescue and, on a predetermined signal from a parent, to crawl out a window. Repeated rehearsals are important because a child's impulse is to run to his parents in a fire emergency, an act that could trap him in the flames.

5) If clothes catch on fire: train the child to immediately drop to the ground and smother the flames by rolling about. If a rug or coat is handy, he should wrap these about his body.

6) If approached by strangers: many hundreds of boys and girls are victimized each year because they are not taught to beware of strangers who approach them in public places. Teach children not to become friendly with strangers and never under any circumstances to accompany a stranger to a lonely place.

Children should not accept automobile rides, candy, money or other favors from a stranger.

Local Girl Scouts Start Cookie Sale

Local Girl Scouts opened their annual sale of cookies Friday, proceeds from which help finance the camping program, provide funds for troop programs and help maintain Scout houses.

The Scouts suggest the following recipes for interesting cooking.

DATE AND NUT ROLL

1 doz Girl Scout Cookies - broken but not too fine
¼ cup chopped dates
14 marshmallows - cut up
1 cup chopped nuts
½ cup whipped cream
Combine the above - saving ½ cup crumbs. Mix well and roll up with ¼ cup crumbs on the outside. Wrap in waxed paper and put in refrigerator at least 5 hours. Cut in slices and top with whipped cream.

APRICOT WHIP

Using stewed dried fruit sweetened to taste
½ tablespoon plain gelatin
3 tablespoons cold water
1 cup hot apricot syrup
¾ cup crumbled Butter Flavored Shorties
1 cup whipping cream
12 stewed apricot halves

Soften gelatin in cold water; add to hot syrup and stir until dissolved. Cool and chill. When slightly jellied, and beginning to set, whip until light and fluffy. Fold in crumbled cookies and whipped cream. Place the apricot halves in bottom of mold and stand Butter Flavored Shorties around the edge. Pour in gelatin mixture and chill.

MRS. LARRY VAN PLENTL

Ceremony Unites Wilson, Plentl

Miss Pamela Kay Wilson and Larry Van Plentl pledged nuptial vows in a candlelight ceremony Friday night at the First Baptist Church of Cameron.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wilson of Navasota, formerly of Cameron. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Plentl of Cameron.

Rev. John H. McLerran read the double-ring ceremony before a branched candelabrum holding white tapers, banked with greenery with baskets of white gladioli on each side.

Mrs. C. W. Bradbury, organist, and Mrs. Clifford Angell, soloist, provided the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal sheath gown of white silk peau-de-soie fashioned with a bateau neckline and a bow-trimmed empire waistline. The bodice was designed with tapered sleeves. Her floor-length train was attached at the shoulders and a crown of eyelid lace and seed pearls held the elbow-length maine veil. She wore a diamond and pearl drop, a gift of the groom.

White carnations centered with a white orchid formed her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Donald Elliott of Copperas Cove served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of shocking pink crepe fashioned with a self-fabric bow at the empire waistline. Her headpiece was a matching bow and tulle. She carried a powder pink cascade of carnations.

Lone Star Meeting

Held In San Antonio

Lincoln Mondrik, distributor for Lone Star Beer in Milam County, has returned from San Antonio where he attended the 26th annual sales meeting of the Lone Star Brewing Company.

The purpose of the meeting was to present the 1967 brewery marketing program to distributors, their employees, brewery officials and sales personnel. Representatives attended from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico.

Harry Jersig, president and chairman of the board, welcomed the more than 400 members of the Lone Star Beer family to the three day convention. "We have been meeting man-to-man for many years," said Jersig, "and this has always been an important factor in building the Lone Star image. Today, you distributors are an important economic part of your communities and have built the quality image that is Lone Star's."

John Pitt, general sales manager, announced that sales for 1966 had broken all previous records. Also in San Antonio from here were Mrs. Lincoln Mondrik, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Mondrik Sr. and Mrs. Betty Cato.

IRS Questions

Q - When do you have to file the long Form 1040 instead of the short Form 1040A?

A - The general rules are that the short Form 1040A cannot be used if: (1) deductions are itemized; (2) income was $10,000 or more; (3) more than $250 of income was not subject to withholding; (4) special tax status or tax credits are claimed; (5) a fiscal year or accrual accounting method is used; (6) the return is delinquent. The 1040A instruction booklet gives more details on who can use it and how it should be prepared. Free copies are available at IRS offices as well as many banks and post offices.

Q - What can be deducted by salesmen for the cost of operating a car?

A - You may be entitled to deduct 10 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and 7 a mile thereafter if you qualify, or you may deduct the actual cost of operation including depreciation. Of course, your car travel must be an ordinary and necessary business expense. These rules are explained in more detail in the Form 1040 instructions.

Q - When does the law on direct filing with service centers go into effect?

A - The law requiring returns to be mailed direct to service centers will be implemented in stages. This year no individual income tax return will be required to be sent direct to the service center although in Texas returns calling for a refund can be mailed directly to the service center to speed up processing. If you have a refund coming, you should send your return to Internal Revenue Service Center, Southwest Region, Austin, Texas 78746. Other returns should be sent to Internal Revenue Service, Federal Building, 300 East 8th Street, Austin, Texas 78701.

Q - Do I have to wait for my W-2 before sending in my return? I have a refund coming and want to file as soon as I can.

A - You must wait until you have your W-2 forms before filing your return. When IRS receives returns that do not have required W-2's attached, processing is held up until the taxpayer is contacted and the missing forms supplied.

Q - What state and local taxes are deductible on my federal tax return?

A - State and local income taxes, general sales taxes, state and local gasoline taxes, annual ad valorem personal property taxes, and real estate taxes levied for the general welfare are deductible. Deductions are not allowed for: drivers licenses, state and local taxes on alcoholic beverages, tobacco and certain miscellaneous taxes, and Texas auto license plates.

You will find further details on what is and is not deductible in the Form 1040 instruction booklet.

Q - Have you got any publication that goes into more detail than the 1040 instructions?

A - The publication "Your Federal Income Tax" provides additional information on tax filing. It may be obtained for 50 cents at any IRS office.

Q - Where should you file your return in the district where you live or the district where you have your legal residence?

A - Tax returns should be filed in the district where you legally reside. For the majority of taxpayers legal residence and actual residence are identical.

Q - I was off the job for two months last year with a kidney infection. Is the $80 a week I received in sick pay deductible?

A - If the $80 a week you received was 75 percent or less of your normal salary and you were hospitalized at least one day, you may exclude from gross income $75 a week for the first 30 days of your absence and $50 a week thereafter. If you were not hospitalized, nothing can be excluded until after a 7-day waiting period, beginning with the first day of work you missed. Then you may exclude $75 a week for the next 23 days, and the full $80 thereafter.

However, if the $80 a week you received was more than 75 percent of your normal salary then the waiting period is 30 days from the first day of absence from work, and nothing may be excluded until that period is up. This will be true whether or not you are hospitalized.

The maximum amount excludable after the first 30 days is $100 per week.

Q - Is it true that you don't have to provide over half a person's support to be able to claim him as a dependent? I've heard that if several people chipped in to support someone then it was up to the group doing the supporting to decide who should claim the dependency exemption. Is that right?

A - Under some circumstances that is correct.

Cases like this usually arise when several members of a family contribute jointly to the support of another member. When the other tests for claiming a dependent are met, and when several people together have provided more than half the support of a person but no one person has contributed more than half, they may agree to permit one of them to claim the exemption.

To do this, the person who takes the exemption must have contributed over 10 percent of the support and the others who contributed over 10 percent must sign a declaration that they will not claim the exemption for that year. The declarations must be filed with the return of the one claiming the exemption.

• San Gabriel

By Mrs. H. H. Linke

The new annex of the San Gabriel Baptist Church was the setting for the annual Youth Sweetheart banquet Saturday night. The theme for the banquet was "A Sweetheart's Furlough." Thirty young people and their teachers were treated to a menu of baked ham, potato salad, baked beans, pickles, hot rolls, iced tea, and pie. The guest speaker was the former pastor, Rev. Bill Parmer of Golinda.

Mrs. Emily Linke and Thomas Blocker were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tomerlin of Minerva.

Mrs. H. D. Kay of Troy spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. F. W. Worley and Thursday afternoon Mrs. Kay, Mrs. Worley, and Mrs. Jim Stewart attended a basketball tournament in Lexington in which Mrs. Kay's daughter, Marsha was playing.

Mrs. Jim Stewart, Mrs. Hugo Linke, Lynette Terry and Carol Mowdy attended the showing of "Dr. Zhivago" in Temple during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Blackmon and children of Victoria were weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. Bill Clark. Other guests of Mrs. Clark were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Clark, Jim, Kelley, and Neill of Houston and Mrs. Gladys Stigall and Bob of Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Clark and Mrs. Betty Harrison were in Freeport over the weekend visiting Mrs. Clark's sister, Mrs. Tom Sisson and Mr. Sisson and Mrs. Harrison's daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilson of Temple visited his sister, Mrs. Howard Fulcher, Friday afternoon. Visiting with the Brooks Barons over the weekend were his sister, Mrs. Nan Cannon and children of Irving.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Limmer visited Mr. and Mrs. George Kroppe in Bartlett Sunday afternoon.

Gus Clark called his mother, Mrs. Bill Clark, Saturday to tell her he was back in Houston after spending over a month on business for the Cameron Iron Works in their plant in Scotland. He said the country was beautiful but that he was glad to be back in Texas.

Mrs. Weldon Gilchrist went to Brady Sunday afternoon to get her grandson, Rupert Lang, for a week's visit. Jane Ann met her there.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Coke" OR "coke"?

You wouldn't think mere spelling was that important. Yet, American business firms are spending millions of dollars every year, just to remind the public to start certain words with a capital letter.

Reason: a hard-headed respect for the law of trademarks. According to this law, a valuable brand name may be lost by becoming a part of the language—just another word that anyone may use.

That is what happened to such once-famous trademarks as Aspirin, Mimeograph, Linoleum, Dry Ice, Escalator, and Kerosene. In each case, what began as a capital-letter private name ended as a small-letter public word. English was the richer, but the manufacturer was very much the poorer—penalized, oddly enough, because its product had become too popular.

How does the law decide when a trademark has fallen into the public domain?

It is mainly a question of fact—whether the public has, in fact, come to think of the name as a description of the product itself, rather than as an indication of who makes it.

For example: a court held that "Cellophane" was no longer a trademark, largely because so many consumers simply knew no other way to describe that kind of product.

It is to fend off this fate that companies carry on their educational campaigns. An editor, columnist, or author who spells "Coke" with a small c is likely to receive a polite reminder from the Coca Cola people that his spelling is wrong.

Just as a company may lose trademark rights in a name that "goes public," so it ordinarily cannot gain trademark rights in a word that was part of the language to begin with. Unless such a word acquires an extra, secondary meaning, it will usually continue to be "free for all."

Thus: a manufacturer of aluminum-covered washboards was denied trademark rights in the word "aluminum." And the owner of a market was denied trademark rights in the phrase "food center."

In both cases, courts found the expressions merely descriptive, without any secondary meaning to be protected.

As one judge pointed out, if companies could freely carve out exclusive rights in common words and phrases, there would be a danger of "depleting the general vocabulary available for description of articles of commerce."

Another 'Zhivago' Someday? ...

Anyone seeing the epic film "Dr. Zhivago" senses the lyrical wisdom of Boris Pasternak's book. Perhaps it presupposes a Chinese counterpart.

A revolution born of the contempt for human suffering inevitably invoked political cruelty demeaning to tens of millions it was to free from the Czar's sabre.

Boris Pasternak, whose book was accorded beautiful delicacy by the movie, was a pre-revolution Russian poet. He lived through the Bolshevik triumph, the Stalin purges, the "stagnated" cultural revolution, the expansionist schemes of Stalin and Khrushchev.

He wrote this book. Risking, at best, confinement in some Siberian labor camp, he saw his work smuggled, perhaps page by page, out of Russia. It was published in Italy.

Its overpowering portrait found print in English and many other languages. Because of it and his high level of poetic contribution, he received the Nobel Prize for Literature.

The political repercussions must have been personally great. But he was an old man, whose integrity would not yield to a national politics, seed of an international conspiracy.

Khrushchev personally intervened. He forbade Pasternak's acceptance of the Nobel. And Pasternak, choosing native-land over asylum outside the country, oblied. He died there a few years ago, a land he cherished before and after 1917.

The great Russian writers, and Pasternak is one of these, view the panoply of Russian character through the fierce, and diverse, Russian expanse and incredible Russian winter.

The movie is admirable in viewing this "Russian Passion" of a well-born poet - doctor, distraught by his own class's cruelty, compassionate in caring for wounds of battle, incredulous at the ambiguous terror of political upheaval, inspired by native beauty of his Motherland.

Like his creator, Yuri Zhivago dies there, though he too could have escaped its privation and death.

It is trite, perhaps, to say Zhivago (in part an autobiographical Pasternak) would not be disloyal even while the truth he lives with kills him. The sadness of the movie Zhivago's eyes belie the benign composure of his smile.

Does Pasternak say a Zhivago is an universal homebody? Or does he say the answer to reality is frozen, like a great Russian winter, in a man's heart?

Is the Chinese revolution as cynical as the Russian episode, now moderating in the aftermath of a Pasternak published beyond the political lash? Will, one day, a poet somehow slash the curtain enveloping 700 million Chinese as Pasternak slashes the Russian?

Despite the impregnable Oriental cant, screened as much as once were the old Czarist orthodoxy and its successor, we think it will happen.

And a Zhivago of another book will cry out, quietly, of power's folly wherever it would crush the human spirit in inevitable human shortsightedness.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

WASHINGTON D.C. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State. Is it possible for one to take his property and secede from the Union? What law or laws, if any, prohibit it? Would this be more possible if he lived on a coast rather than inland? Can a guy start his own country - print his own money and stamps, etc.? Could he do this if he first relinquished his citizenship? Thanks.

D. C. S.

Dayton, Ohio

In response to your question, you may be confident that it is not possible "for one to take his property and secede from the Union." If you have further questions, perhaps the Department of Justice could assist you.

I will be visiting Panama on a sightseeing vacation for several days. Will I be able to visit freely the United States' administered canal area? Or will I need written permission to visit it and if so, how and where may I get it?

J. W.

There are no restrictions on travel between the Republic of Panama and the Canal Zone. Once admitted into Panama you will be able to travel freely into the Canal Zone.

The United States gained the sovereignty of the canal strip at Panama by the Hay-Bunau-Varilla Treaty of November 18, 1903.

Emergency Funds Asked By Govr.

AUSTIN Gov. John Connally's emergency appropriation recommendations to the Legislature held the spotlight at his weekly press conference.

Connally noted that the Senate "apparently wants to study very carefully" the emergency appropriations for which he has asked. He said that plans for San Antonio's HemisFair '68 may have to be "seriously altered" if the Senate takes much longer. Governor asks $5,500,000 in emergency funds for the state's exhibit, the Institute of Texan Cultures.

Legislature could pass an emergency appropriation to finance immediate pay raises for state employees only if Connally asked them. However, he declined and stood by his original recommendations for increases, effective September 1.

Connally also answered some of the opposition which has lived up since he asked the Legislature to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink. "Opponents on an issue like this always write, and proponents never do," he said, after the flood of letters began arriving. His bill initially contemplated automatically legalizing over-the-bar sales in wet areas without necessity for additional local option elections. However, there is strong pressure to require separate elections, Connally acknowledged the entire proposal faces "tough sledding."

Governor also revealed that A. W. Moutson of Johnson City, close friend and business associate of President Johnson, has asked not to be re-appointed to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission. His term expired last week, but he will serve until Connally appoints a successor.

Connally also hinted that he is considering running for a fourth term. He said, "My future action may be determined by what we accomplish during this session."

He declined to say where he stands on pari-mutual horse race betting legislation or daylight saving time for Texas.

RACE ON - The horses bounded out of the legislative starting gate with record speed in the Senate. Senate Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns approved the measure to legalize horse race gambling in Texas by a six to five vote.

However, newsmen's polls indicate the bill lacks majority support in either house. Proponents virtually acknowledge that - but feel that their prospects are brighter than ever before.

Bill is sponsored by Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg and Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville. House bill was referred to the Counties Committee.

Senate committee hearing featured arguments on tourist attraction and tax revenue value vs. moral and economic objections to legalized gambling regardless of its visitor appeal and tax potential.

APPOINTMENTS - Ned Price of Tyler, former Smith County judge, was re-appointed by the governor to a new six-year term on the State Board of Insurance.

Connally picked Corpus Christi oilman Laurence A. McNeil as new board member of Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville. He succeeds John Lynch of Houston, who resigned.

Bob G. Allen of Hamilton, a staff member for two years, was named acting director of the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity, replacing Walter Richter, who resigned to join the federal War on Poverty.

CONSUMER CREDIT CODE - A hard crackdown on certain firms offering credit is the recommendation by a governor's study committee on consumer finance.

Committee found that the public is being defrauded by such organizations as home-improvement firms and small-loan businesses. Governor's recommendation is that the state set up strict regulation of these businesses - all the way from banks and savings and loan associations down to retail merchants giving credit.

Code would set maximum credit charges, limit insurance required for credit transactions, make clear to consumers amount of credit or cash advances and all charges or pertinent data and prohibit deceptive advertising in the field.

Also included in the recommendations was altering the state statutory ceiling on interest rates which the various types of business may charge for credit.

PARK MONEY - Governor Connally's proposed constitutional amendment to authorize the sale of $75,000,000 in bonds for state park development was opposed at its hearing before the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Measure would provide that the bonds be paid off from entrance fees at the parks. Interest rate would not exceed six percent per year.

When no one appeared to testify against the measure, Rep. Rayford Price, committee chairman, referred it to a subcommittee composed of Reps. A. C. Atwood of Edinburg, Bill Bass of Ben Wheeler and Gerhard Schulte of San Marcos.

2 File For Re-Election To Rogers Board

Two seats will be up for re-election on the Rogers School Board in the April 1 election according to Board Secretary Clayton Clowers.

Incumbents Woodson Waits and H. H. Wright have filed for re-election to the Board. Clowers said candidates must file with him or with the superintendent of schools by March 1, 1967. The Board requires that each candidate file written application and have five bona fide citizens of the school district endorse his candidacy.

The election will be in the high school library from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. April 1.

Absentee voting from March 12 through March 23 will be in the central school office with Mrs. Billye Synatzske as clerk and Mrs. Nancy Godwin as deputy clerk.

Mrs. Frank Poncik will be election judge with Mrs. J. L. Aycock and Mrs. Hulon Farrell as clerks.

red it to a subcommittee composed of Reps. A. C. Atwood of Edinburg, Bill Bass of Ben Wheeler and Gerhard Schulte of San Marcos.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION - Three bills are in the Legislature aimed at forming a Texas Constitutional Revision Commission to investigate whether and how to either revise or rewrite the Texas Constitution.

Governor Connally's bill, sponsored by Rep. Randy Pendleton of Andrews, would set up the commission and provide for a state Constitutional Convention in Austin in June, 1968. It also would give Connally authority to appoint 10 of the 25 members of the commission and call for a November election of 450 delegates.

Rep. Carl A. Parker of Beaumont also introduced a bill setting up the commission. But his would give the governor no more appointments than the speaker, the lieutenant governor and the chief justice of the supreme court.

Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston has introduced a Senate bill to create the commission with 45 members. The governor, speaker and lieutenant governor each would appoint 15 members under this measure.

FEED LOT LICENSING - Disagreement on a bill to regulate and license cattle feed lots marked a hearing before the House Committee on Livestock and Stock Raising. Disagreement is among cattlemen concerning its merits and among committee members on whether to immediately approve it.

Bill, sponsored by Rep. Tom Holmes of Granbury, would require cattle feed lot with a capacity of more than 1,000 head of cattle to be licensed by the state and to meet state standards.

Motion to approve the bill without submitting it to a subcommittee came out with an 8-8 tie and was thus defeated.

'Good Sam' ... Laughter From The Soul

By Jesse Wilkerson
(Another of Mr. Wilkerson's recollections of the old Cameron. —Ed.)

This is the story about a man with a great heart. Many in Cameron today, as well as former residents, knew this man well. His family was among the early pioneers. Many of his charitable acts were not generally known.

Some may have heard this story, which I would re-tell. It was told to me by a friend, whom I shall not name.

In searching for a name to identify this good man, I think of the "Good Samaritan," or "Good Sam."

It was crop harvesting time in Milam County. Parked around the courthouse square were several trucks and wagons, some empty, others filled with corn or cotton.

Sam and my friend stood talking, when a man drove up in an old Model "T" and parked the car near where they were standing. The other occupants of the car were a woman and three small children. It was obvious they were poor people, no doubt, migratory farm workers.

Sam walked over to the car and spoke to the man in his cordial manner.

"Howdy," he said, "where are you folks from?"

"We're from down below Milano Junction," was the reply. "Head-in' fer the blackland country. Hear the cotton crop's real good around Ben Arnold and Burlington. Hope to pick enough to buy the wife and kids some shoes and winter clothes."

"Well, Podner," Sam observed, "I don't reckon you'll make it that far on those tires. They're shore worn slick." Then as if in an afterthought, he added, "Tell you what, if you'll go with me to that garage over there, they're throwing away some used tires you might use."

"Now that's real kind of you," replied the man. "You lead the way."

My friend went along and stood by, while Sam had a few words aside with the garage man. He heard Sam say, "The best second-hand tires and tubes you've got, I'll settle with you later."

While the exchange of the tires was being made, Sam took the children next door to a general store to buy them candy. When they returned, the man and his wife were waiting in the car ready to go. The children, who before had been barefooted, now had on new stockings and shoes. Sam was carrying a large bag filled with groceries.

The woman said, "We'll never forget your kindness," and the man added, "I just don't know what to say. Maybe someday, we kin pay you back fer all you've done."

"Podner," Sam replied, "you people don't owe me one red copper cent. What little I have done was for the children, and I sure have been paid a plenty by the pleasure it gave me."

The family drove away while the children waved goodbye to Sam from the back seat of the car. His smile wide, Sam waved back, and his smile became laughter.

It was no ordinary laugh, but a deep throated, exuberant laugh that shook his shoulders. My friend said he knew Good Sam's hearty laugh surely came from the soul.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Old Philosopher Gives Some Involved Advice To Town Friend Wanting To Raise Cattle

Dear editor:

A man from town drove out here to this Johnson grass farm the other day and said, "Say, I want to ask you something."

"Go ahead," I said. I don't know that a man from town turning up here is as good as a newspaper but you have to take what comes in this life. "Whatta you want to know?"

"Well," he said, "I've got a little patch of land north of town, just a few acres, and I'd like to know how many cows you think I could run on it."

Now I don't know why he picked me to advise him, it's about like asking a movie queen to discuss politics or William Manchester to write history, but since I didn't have anything else to do I told him it was simple.

First, I said, you count the blades of grass on one acre, multiply that by the number of acres you have, divide by 113,000, take the square root of that, get an accurate weather forecast for the next twelve months, divide the number of inches of rain predicted by twelve, subtract the number of inches you'll probably get, average out the price of cattle over the past 50 years and guess what the price six months from now will be, figure up how many years, months and weeks it'll be before the war in Viet Nam is over, determine whether Russia and China are mad at each other or just acting, subtract this year's income tax increase from last year's decrease, figure up how many miles you get to a gallon of gas, subtract that from the miles the manufacturer claims you ought to get provided you keep going down hill all the time, renew your subscription to The Herald, rebuild your fences, put a few head of cows on the land, weigh them every week, and at the end of six months if the total weight then equals what it was at the start, you have the right number of cows but the wrong number of acres of land.

He said he would think this over, and I believe he should.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Think.

What else besides Long Distance telephone service costs you less today than it did 10 years ago?

Tough question. Not many things have gone down in price these past few years. Most goods and services have zoomed up in cost.

Long Distance rates are a pleasant exception. There have been nine rate reductions in Texas since 1957.

Nowadays, you can make a three-minute, station-to-station call to anywhere in the continental United States (except Alaska) for $1 or less after 8 p.m. or all day Sunday. This is the lowest rate ever. (Interesting comparison: The first transcontinental phone call, made in 1915, cost $20.70.)

And service today is faster and more convenient than ever before.

Better service at lower cost; we think that's a winning combination. Don't you?

An ordinance fixing and determining the general service rate to be charged for sales of natural gas to residential and commercial consumers within the city limits of Cameron, Milam County, Texas, and providing for the manner in which such rate may be changed, adjusted and amended.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of Cameron:

SECTION 1. Effective with the first gas bills rendered on or after the 1st day of March, 1967, the general service rate for sales of natural gas rendered to residential and commercial consumers within the city limits of Cameron by Lone Star Gas Company, a Texas corporation, its successors and assigns, is hereby fixed and determined as follows:

First 1,000 cu. ft. or fraction thereof $1.67 gross; $1.50 net.
 All over 1,000 cu. ft. at $8433 gross per MCF; $ 759 net per MCF

No gas bill will be rendered to any residential or commercial consumer served under the above rate not consuming any gas during any monthly billing period.

ADJUSTMENTS

An amount equivalent to the proportionate part of any new tax, or increased rate of tax, or governmental imposition or charge (except state, county, city and special district ad valorem taxes and any taxes on net income) levied or assessed against the Company or on its gas business, as the result of any new or amended law, ordinance or contract, after January 1, 1966. Each gross monthly bill shall be adjusted proportionately. Company at its option may forego the application of any adjustment if such adjustment would result in an increase in the monthly bill; however, failure of Company to apply any adjustment shall not constitute a waiver of Company's right, from time to time or at any time, to make any adjustment in whole or in part, in any subsequent current monthly bill that may be applicable to such bill under the provisions of the foregoing adjustments.

Net rate shall apply to all bills paid within ten days from monthly billing date.

In addition to the aforesaid rates, Company shall have the right to collect such reasonable charges as are necessary to conduct its business and to carry out its reasonable rules and regulations in effect. The above rate is applicable to each residential and commercial consumer per month or for any part of a month for which gas is used at the same location.

SECTION 2. The rate set forth in Section 1 may be changed and amended by either the City or Company furnishing gas in the manner provided by law. Service hereunder is subject to the orders of regulatory bodies having jurisdiction, and to the Company's Rules and Regulations currently on file in the Company's office.

Nurse Recommends Immunization Shots Before Hot Weather

Mrs. Gloria Perkins, Cameron School nurse, has recommended that all children beginning school in September, 1967 should start their booster immunizations now, before hot weather.

Mrs. Perkins said the school requires that all first graders show evidence (certificate from doctor) of smallpox vaccination, diphtheria, polio and tuberculin skin test. Mrs. Perkins said it was advisable to have children immunized for whooping cough, measles and tetanus although it is not compulsory.

Tuberculin skin tests will be given in school by the Milam County Health Department after school opens in September, Mrs. Perkins said.

Sen. Watson Calls For Industrial Development, Veterans' Land Bonds

State Senator Murray Watson has proposed two constitutional amendments calling for state bonds to finance industrial development and an increase in total bonds issued by Veterans Land Board to $400 million.

The development resolution, SJR 10, would authorize the Texas Industrial Commission to issue $300 million in State bonds to finance loans for industrial development in Texas.

The bonds, similar to the Veterans Land and Texas Water Development Fund Bonds, would be used to provide funds for loans to Texas municipalities or combination of municipalities to enable them to assist new industry in locating in a community or for expansion of existing industries. The loans from the State would be long-term, low interest funds.

The second recommendation was to re-establish the Veterans Land program, which expired January 1, 1966, and calls for an increase in total bonds issued by the VLB to $400 million.

The Veterans Land program, one of the few state programs that was making some money for the State, helped World War II and Korean Veterans finance land purchases. Watson's proposal would extend the same benefits to include Vietnam veterans.

The Senate has passed six of Watson's bills and referred them to the House for action, and Senate committees have entered nine of his bills for full Senate discussion. Two bills on a minimum sick leave for teachers and consultation between teachers, administrators and school trustees have passed the Senate Education Committee and should win early approval on the Senate floor.

No wonder there's a Berlin wall!
It's so hard to get people to accept ideas—to continue to accept them.

It takes ruthlessness, brutality, oppression.
Or does it?

Jesus Christ was a carpenter in Nazareth. That was centuries ago. But the ideas he shared with his disciples are preached from our pulpits today. The truths for which he offered his life are being lived by millions of Christians.

How did he make his point so clear... and so eternal?
He did it through Love and Self-sacrifice... and God's Power. He did it through the very gifts which he imparts today to those who worship Him!
